Dear Practitioner,

Did you know that of the 75% of adults who take dietary supplements, 55% rely on their doctor as their most-trusted source of information regarding supplements?[1]

Further, 76% of 600 doctors and other practitioners surveyed said they sell supplements in their practice,[2] and they do so for many reasons.

One is to provide a convenient, one-stop-shop experience rather than send their patients to stores like CVS and Walgreens where stock is limited. Another reason is that they wish to offer the highest-quality supplements to their patients, and that is because many doctors feel that by ensuring patients have the highest-quality product, better health outcomes can be achieved.[3]

In fact, it was noted in an article published by Vitamin Science that patients are more appreciative of doctors who carefully chose high-quality supplements as part of their overall treatment.[4]

BiosupportMD can help your practice in all these areas through our line of high-quality supplements that are non-GMO, gluten free and contain no additives. We offer a variety of bioflavonoid-rich formulations that support the body's natural immune defenses as well as the venous and lymphatic systems. Bioflavonoids have also been shown to assist in the healing of venous stasis ulcers.*

And, all of our products are manufactured in FDA registered facilities.

Please review the summary of BiosupportMD's product line on the right to see if they can benefit your practice and your patients. We also invite you to visit www.biosupportmd.com to find out more about how our health and wellness products can help you in your success.

Thank you, be safe and stay healthy!

"Vein Formula has helped many of my patients since I started utilizing it in my practice, and it's something we offer to all our patients who have venous insufficiency. I believe in it, I use it and it's something that all vein practices should have."

-- Dr. Charles Dietzek, Vascular Surgeon, Vein and Vascular Institute, Voorhees NJ

"I have to tell you that patients are having amazing results with Vein Formula and Lymphatic Formula. In fact, I recently posted a picture of one of my patient's dramatic reduction in lymphedema on social media because she was so happy with the improvements."

-- Dev Batra, MD, Dallas Vein Institute, Dallas TX

"I can honestly say that Vein Formula is the first supplement in which patients have seen an improvement in their edema and the way their legs feel. And for our patients with hemorrhoids, Hemorrhoid Formula has significantly reduced their bleeding. I feel there is an impact that can be made by using these supplements."

-- Dr. Ken Osorio, Advanced Vein Center, Mesa AZ
